Based on Hebrews 13:11-15

Overview

There is an old praise chorus that goes:

We bring the sacrifice of praise
Into the house of our Lord;
We bring the sacrifice of praise
Into the house of the Lord
And we offer up to You
The sacrifices of thanksgiving;
And we offer up to You
The sacrifices of joy.

Our letter-writer is writing to encourage his audience to stand up under the pressures of a world that doesn't understand them with courage and joy. There is only one way for a follower of Christmas to do that effectively: by remembering who He is and the promise that is fulfilled in him.

This week, spend your time worshipping together – praying, singing, reading praise passages from the Bible. May you be blessed by this time of sharing with each other how good, how great, how deserving our Holy Three-Yet-One is of our sacrifice of praise!
